

Ten years of LDOH publications 2014 – 2024

Frank van Dijk July 14, 2024

In about 10 years LDOH staff published in total 38 publications, including scientific papers, books, comprehensive learning materials, one repository, and other publications.

We did our education, research, development, and publications, not alone. Many publications were written by a team, often with co-authors not directly linked to the LDOH foundation and working in a variety of countries. This international collaboration has enriched us and made our work extra rewarding.

Most publications are free of charge. A few publications, especially books on how to find reliable online information, the BOHS repository and the learning materials on Work and Health in Agriculture, can be downloaded via our online web shop. A small number of the publications are stored behind a paywall, unfortunately. We are in favor of Open Access publications.

The links in this overview facilitate downloading.
